

PUBLIC VISIBILITY

Recognize National First Responders Day, October 28

PUBLIC WORKS

Support public works visibility in your local community by celebrating National First Responders Day (NFRD). We've updated and added new elements to our NFRD toolkit to help you spread the word. You'll find:

- » A customizable sample proclamation to submit to your governor's or mayor's office
- » New NFRD-themed photo frame designs, sample social media posts, and a suggested posting schedule

- » A video featuring APWA President Vic Bienes that you can add to your agency website or post across social platforms
- » New, ready-to-use 15- and 30-second radio PSAs to share with local stations

FIRST RESPONDER

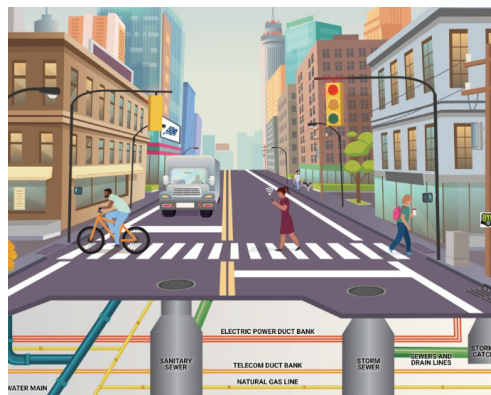

NEW RESOURCES!

Public Works Benchmarks Available

Public works benchmarks for winter maintenance and facilities and grounds management are in the Resource Center. APWA conducted a pilot benchmarking survey in 2022 of 150 agencies across the US. These documents present detailed overviews of key metrics from this survey.

What's in a Right-of-Way? Webpage and Infographic

Managing the right-of-way (ROW) extends beyond what is visible. This infographic illustrates the ROW and the many elements it encompasses. Its accompanying webpage includes overviews of key areas of ROW management, along with links to educational resources and further information on each topic.

Certification Corner

The Certified Stormwater Manager (CSM) update is progressing. The Job Task Analysis (JTA) was completed in September. The next phase of the project will include updating the Stormwater Management Manual and developing the education and assessments for the new microcredentials. If you are interested in participating in the next phase of this project, email certification@apwa.org.

The Certified Public Works Professional-Supervision (CPWP-S) and Certified Public Works Professional-Management (CPWP-M) program update kicked off in September with the start of the JTA. The JTA is expected to be completed by February 2026.
